

Could use for any habit

- Materials:
- 5 Leader In Me quotes of your choice
 - 5 pieces of chart paper or large white butcher paper

Procedure:

1. Tape each quote in the middle of a piece of chart paper.
2. Students get into 5 groups and each student in the group has a different colored marker.
3. Each group starts with a quote paper. Students read quote and reflect on what that quote means to them and how it ties in with a Leader In Me habit.
4. Students draw a line from quote to a spot on the white paper and write their reflection.
5. When each student in the group has written a reflection, the other students in the group read what has been written and can comment on someone else's idea. Basically, students are able to reflect and have a "conversation" on the paper.
6. Teacher can post quote papers and have groups do a carousal to read and write comments on other students' ideas or groups can present their ideas to the class.

Borcherding