Olivia	Good morning! Welcome to Orange and thank you for coming to celebrate leadership with us. My name is Olivia and I am a Student Lighthouse team member. With me today are Sydney, another lighthouse team member, and Addison, a speaker leader. We are here to guide you through your morning.
Sydney	This year we had quite a few new faces at Orange; a new principal, a new lead teacher, a new counselor, some new teachers, and a few new students. That's a lot of change!
Addison	To remind us of our mission, we decided our theme this year to be "We RISE UP to leadership." We want to share many examples of how we rise up to leadership here at Orange. Listen carefully, you will here many ways that you too can rise up to leadership!
Olivia	As you know, here at Orange we believe in our students taking leadership roles. That's why I am up here right now speaking to you all! Let me introduce you to 3 more of our student leaders, Brody, Ryan, and Dalton. They are here to tell us about our leadership roles and how they help us rise up.
	Brody, Ryan, and Dalton speak.
Sydney	Another way that we rise up to leadership comes from two of my teammates on the Student Lighthouse Team, Luka and Jackson. They had an idea to inspire kindness in our building.
	Luka and Jackson speak.
Addison	Luka and Jackson's idea of being kind to others inspired these next two students to take that one step further. Charlotte and Alexa are here to share about a grant they wrote and received that will benefit students in a unique way.
	Charlotte and Alexa speak.
Olivia	So you have heard about how our roles help us serve our building and community, how we serve each other through our kindness, and how we have been inspired to serve others with a unique opportunity. These last two examples of how we rise up to leadership have to do with how we treat our own bodies and minds. Up next are Toby and Eli with their ideas of how we rise up and get healthy!

	Toby and Eli speak.
Sydney	WOW! So we can rise up to leadership with our bodies by choosing healthy foods and activities. What about our minds? How can we rise up to challenge those?? Wait, I know, by reading!! Up next is Molly and Annika to share about our Master Minutes.
	Molly and Annika speak.
Addison	Now that's a lot of rising up!! Now let's go check out the rest of our school! Take a minute to look in your folder at the tour guide. Try your best to pop into a room in each wing. Don't worry, if you get lost, there are plenty of students that we lead you in the right direction! If you have a red folder, please exit now and head to Paw Place. This is our first wing where Pre-K, Kindergarten, and 1st grade classrooms are waiting for you. If you have a yellow folder, please exit now and head toward Cub Center. This is our center wing, where 2nd and 3rd grade classrooms are located. Finally, if you have a green folder, please head towards Tiger Town, which is where our 4th and 5th grade classrooms are located. Every 15 minutes we will announce for you to head to the next week.

Olivia	Welcome back! We hope you were able to see many more examples of we rise up to leadership here at Orange. We know, as leaders, that we are learning all the time. We have had some of our own new learning this year about paradigms. A paradigm is a belief or a way of thinking. Watch the thinking of our Student Lighthouse Team as they describe the 5 paradigms.
	Share video.
Sydney	Knowing our paradigms is important as we move forward in our leadership at Orange. Our paradigms define who we are. The paradigm of change was alive at Orange this year. What we know about change is that even though it is hard, there is always a way that we can rise back up, no matter what the situation! So we challenge you today one last time. We have one last message to share from, Asia, another Lighthouse Team Member.
	Asia to speak.
Addison	We thank you, again, for taking the time to visit us and celebrate our leadership with you. We leave you today with a song of inspiration; a reminder that there "ain't no mountain high enough!"
	5th grade choir to sing.
